To Whom It May Concern,

This letter is issued to certify that Mr. Amirhossain Arshadi Kalemeh possesses sufficient proficiency in English to pursue advanced academic studies and research in an English-speaking academic environment.

I have taught him in several undergraduate and graduate-level physics courses at the Isfahan University of Technology, including Thermodynamics, Statistical Mechanics, Advanced Statistical Mechanics I, Complex Systems, and Biophysics. These courses required extensive use of English-language textbooks and research articles. In addition, he served as a Teaching Assistant for the graduate-level course in Complex Systems and completed his undergraduate research project under my supervision. These academic activities involved independent reading of scientific literature, preparation of technical reports, and communication of scientific concepts in English.

Based on my direct academic interaction with him, I confirm that his English proficiency is fully adequate for following advanced-level courses and writing scientific material in English.

Sincerely yours,

Farhad Shahbazi
